Sow as You Go

What we do has eternal significance. It is impossible to know in the here and now what our actions and words will accomplish for the Kingdom of God. What harvest will our Lord reap from the seeds he has placed in the garden of your heart? Have they taken root and are you watering them daily – enriching the soil, and tending to their growth?

Are the fruits of the Spirit visible in your life? Love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control? As these fruits mature in you, are you planting seeds into your neighbors' gardens?

The latest fad is growing crops on virtual farms on social media sites. Your friends and family can send and request supplies, plants and even manure. In the spiritual realm, also, we must care for the land – our individual mission fields – and diligently sow God's Word while it is still day.

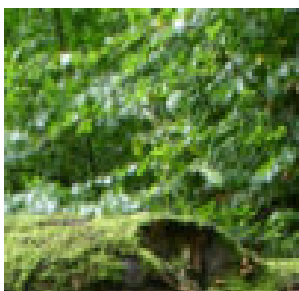

Like a tree planted by streams of water – are your leaves remaining green all year round? Out of the abundance of your heart do your words bring glory to God and paint a picture of Christ's love? Are you living your life as a fragrant offering that attracts others to the Source of your joy?

Philippians 1:10 says, "Approve the things that are excellent in order to be sincere and blameless until the day of Christ." What things do you approve of – do they bring glory to God? Do you need to refocus your heart and mind on the things of God?

Christians everywhere are called to sow as we go. This begins in the inner regions of each follower's heart. The good soil of your heart can produce amazing growth as you deeply embrace God's Word.

Pray with me: "Here I am, Lord. Send me out full of seeds of faith and love, that by Your Spirit I might speak Your truth and sow Your grace in the world."
